IRISH GOLD Put down the heavy cream and vitamin E pills; here are some homemade beauty products you won't have to mix yourself. Inspired by her mother's use of homemade Irish remedies used to maintain her pristine complexion, Winifred Burkeman created McBride Beauty, an ingenious line of products made from organic and natural ingredients. You won't find a drop of synthetic fragrance in these bottles. Having inherited her mother's delicate skin, Winifred recognizes that some women prefer their skincare without harsh chemicals or sulfates. With ingredients like aloe and witch hazel, you can't help but wonder, "Why didn't I think of that?" And picking up a bar of McBride's Milk and Honey soap is so much easier than waiting for the tallow in your fridge to separate. McBrideBeauty.com
